What is your main occupation? What is your primary practice setting?

ISN offers the latest and broadest knowledge about kidney research and patient care. This is why more than 90% of you are happy with the expertise, programs and information we provide.

66% of you believe we have the balance right between the number of scientific and humanitarian activities.

Best member benefits

When it comes to member benefits, print and online publications continue to be the most valuable to you, followed by access to ISN online education material such as webinars, presentations, articles, cases and guidelines.

How valuable are the different ISN Programs?

Top reasons you joined ISN

Continuing Medical Education
Clinical Research
Fellowship
Sister Renal Centers and Sister Transplant Centers
Educational Ambassadors

Print and online versions of Kidney International, KI Supplements, KI Reports and ISN Education
Contributing to ISN Programs and support sustainable capacity building in emerging countries
Access to CMEs and other training

60% of you are somewhat to very involved in ISN as a Society.

42% of you see yourselves engaged in educational and humanitarian activities in the future.

Thank you for your commitment in supporting the efforts of our community to improve kidney care across all regions.

According to you, what should the focus of ISN education be in the future?

Your feedback has allowed us to understand what you enjoy the most about ISN, helping us to focus more on educational activities in the future.

Which activities would you like us to develop more?

WHO are you and where are you from?

ISN offers the latest and broadest knowledge about kidney research and patient care. This is why more than 90% of you are happy with the expertise, programs and information we provide.

66% of you believe we have the balance right between the number of scientific and humanitarian activities.

Best member benefits

When it comes to member benefits, print and online publications continue to be the most valuable to you, followed by access to ISN online education material such as webinars, presentations, articles, cases and guidelines.

How valuable are the different ISN Programs?

Top reasons you joined ISN

Continuing Medical Education
Clinical Research
Fellowship
Sister Renal Centers and Sister Transplant Centers
Educational Ambassadors

Print and online versions of Kidney International, KI Supplements, KI Reports and ISN Education
Contributing to ISN Programs and support sustainable capacity building in emerging countries
Access to CMEs and other training

60% of you are somewhat to very involved in ISN as a Society.

42% of you see yourselves engaged in educational and humanitarian activities in the future.

Thank you for your commitment in supporting the efforts of our community to improve kidney care across all regions.

According to you, what should the focus of ISN education be in the future?

Your feedback has allowed us to understand what you enjoy the most about ISN, helping us to focus more on educational activities in the future.

Which activities would you like us to develop more?

WHO are you and where are you from?

ISN offers the latest and broadest knowledge about kidney research and patient care. This is why more than 90% of you are happy with the expertise, programs and information we provide.

66% of you believe we have the balance right between the number of scientific and humanitarian activities.

Best member benefits

When it comes to member benefits, print and online publications continue to be the most valuable to you, followed by access to ISN online education material such as webinars, presentations, articles, cases and guidelines.

How valuable are the different ISN Programs?

Top reasons you joined ISN

Continuing Medical Education
Clinical Research
Fellowship
Sister Renal Centers and Sister Transplant Centers
Educational Ambassadors

Print and online versions of Kidney International, KI Supplements, KI Reports and ISN Education
Contributing to ISN Programs and support sustainable capacity building in emerging countries
Access to CMEs and other training

60% of you are somewhat to very involved in ISN as a Society.

42% of you see yourselves engaged in educational and humanitarian activities in the future.

Thank you for your commitment in supporting the efforts of our community to improve kidney care across all regions.

According to you, what should the focus of ISN education be in the future?

Your feedback has allowed us to understand what you enjoy the most about ISN, helping us to focus more on educational activities in the future.

Which activities would you like us to develop more?

WHO are you and where are you from?

ISN offers the latest and broadest knowledge about kidney research and patient care. This is why more than 90% of you are happy with the expertise, programs and information we provide.

66% of you believe we have the balance right between the number of scientific and humanitarian activities.

Best member benefits

When it comes to member benefits, print and online publications continue to be the most valuable to you, followed by access to ISN online education material such as webinars, presentations, articles, cases and guidelines.

How valuable are the different ISN Programs?

Top reasons you joined ISN

Continuing Medical Education
Clinical Research
Fellowship
Sister Renal Centers and Sister Transplant Centers
Educational Ambassadors

Print and online versions of Kidney International, KI Supplements, KI Reports and ISN Education
Contributing to ISN Programs and support sustainable capacity building in emerging countries
Access to CMEs and other training

60% of you are somewhat to very involved in ISN as a Society.

42% of you see yourselves engaged in educational and humanitarian activities in the future.

Thank you for your commitment in supporting the efforts of our community to improve kidney care across all regions.

According to you, what should the focus of ISN education be in the future?

Your feedback has allowed us to understand what you enjoy the most about ISN, helping us to focus more on educational activities in the future.

Which activities would you like us to develop more?

WHO are you and where are you from?

ISN offers the latest and broadest knowledge about kidney research and patient care. This is why more than 90% of you are happy with the expertise, programs and information we provide.

66% of you believe we have the balance right between the number of scientific and humanitarian activities.

Best member benefits

When it comes to member benefits, print and online publications continue to be the most valuable to you, followed by access to ISN online education material such as webinars, presentations, articles, cases and guidelines.

How valuable are the different ISN Programs?

Top reasons you joined ISN

Continuing Medical Education
Clinical Research
Fellowship
Sister Renal Centers and Sister Transplant Centers
Educational Ambassadors

Print and online versions of Kidney International, KI Supplements, KI Reports and ISN Education
Contributing to ISN Programs and support sustainable capacity building in emerging countries
Access to CMEs and other training

60% of you are somewhat to very involved in ISN as a Society.

42% of you see yourselves engaged in educational and humanitarian activities in the future.

Thank you for your commitment in supporting the efforts of our community to improve kidney care across all regions.

According to you, what should the focus of ISN education be in the future?

Your feedback has allowed us to understand what you enjoy the most about ISN, helping us to focus more on educational activities in the future.

Which activities would you like us to develop more?

WHO are you and where are you from?